

Dear students,

According to the instructions of the University of Ljubljana expert group, all forms of pedagogical process at the Faculty of Arts are cancelled from noon today (March 9, 2020) to March 13, 2020, when further instructions will be sent to you.

The study process will be replaced with e-classroom activities or other forms of studying from distance.

In addition, this week, all office hours of faculty offices and libraries are cancelled. You can contact them by email or telephone, and in person but by prior arrangement only.

According to the instructions of the University of Ljubljana, all public events at the Faculty of Arts (round tables, meetings, public lectures, conferences, graduation ceremonies, etc.) are also cancelled from today onwards until further notice.

For the time being, all of these measures are valid until Friday, March 13, 2020 unless otherwise instructed by the University of Ljubljana expert group or by the state institutions. We will inform you about new instructions, and please check the updates on the Faculty websites.
