

University of Ljubljana, Faculty of Arts
Department of Ethnology and Cultural Anthropology

The first doctoral students' international conference
Ljubljana, 3 June, 2022

Ethnography today, knowledge production and digital futures

In the frame of the conference, we will discuss knowledge production in anthropology, from the perspective of the West – and “the rest”. In terms of social frame, and recent development in international relations, we will problematize self-understandableness of human freedoms and autonomous parts of society.

The conference will be organized in the room P3, Zavetiška 5, and at the following Zoom link:
